Office of Foundation and Corporate Relations
Overview

Overview:

The Office of Foundation and Corporate Relations (OFCR) works with faculty and staff to raise funds for priority programs and institutional initiatives. The staff can help:

- Develop program concepts.
- Identify potential funders.
- Build strategic relationships with foundation and corporate leaders and program officers.
- Draft and/or edit proposals and reports.

We maintain an archive on the history of University relationships with major foundations and corporations as well as current foundation/corporation profiles and information on most recent contacts.
